SCHOOL NOTES

KAPAA SCHOOL

We will hold graduation exercises on Wednesday, June 21st. The public is cordially invited.

There will be a display of school work, showing our industrial and academic activities on this day.

Our athletic meet will be held on Tuesday, June 22. We will have races, games and other contests. Medals will be awarded to the best all around athlete in their class according to weight.

Final examinations for the year for the eighth grade will begin on June 14th.

The girls in the graduation class are completing gowns for graduation. This is a test in one of their industrial arts.

The seventh and eighth grade pupils will take an excursion to the Mahee mill this week. Many will see for the first time, the process of sugar manufacturing.

We are rather interested in the radio phone and learning all we can. Strange as it may seem, a pupil was discovered in one of the upper grades, who had never used a telephone. We will get used to older inventions before tampering with new ones.

One of our pupils in the upper grades is indulging in short story writing, and is ambitious to become a writer. Who knows, he may yet be an O. Henry some day.

EXCURSION TO HAENA

(By Namiko Kondo, grade 7-B, Lihue school, June 2, 1922.)

On Wednesday morning I woke up early and made lots of lunch and went to school. There I waited for a little while, then the truck came. Everybody jumped on the truck and took places. Then Miss Young and Miss Colbert came. We gave our money to Tomoe, then Miss Colbert took the money and asked Mr. Simpson to keep it. Then at 7:00 o'clock sharp the truck started and we shouted and were glad to go. We shouted all the while. When we met anyone we shouted and they all waved their hands. We had lots of fun in the truck. We stopped at Lihue store to get some boys and girls. The second stop was at Kapaa. We had a long ride. We saw beautiful valleys and trees. We also the beautiful ocean with blue waters and mountains high and beautiful with green trees. We saw large bridges made of cement and some of iron. The Waialua bridge was very big and a good strong one. Everything was beautiful we saw the Anahola mountain. It has a hole in it. Some white birds were flying around the mountains. Men were working in the fields and when we shouted they all waved their hats and cane knives. We passed Hanalei. Some children were going to school. We passed Waialua and reached Kapaa. We saw lots of stores. We came to Kealia and there were lots of houses. We saw a big mill. They were grinding sugar cane into sugar and we smelled the sweet odor and it made us one. We had a long ride to Haena. Everybody was tired of riding in the truck. We passed lots of bridges. At last we reached Hanalei. Everybody shouted Hurray! Hanalei! We sang some songs as we went. We rode thru large forests and the road was bad. The truck stopped and we got off and we walked with the teachers to the caves. As we were going we were lost, for the road led us to the bushes. So we came back and took the other road. We had a difficult way to the cave. We have to cross streams and in the bushes and our feet were hurt and we were tired and hungry. We walked one mile to the cave. At last we found the way.

When we came to the mouth of the mouth of the cave we were half out of breath. It was so beautiful. We first went to the wet cave. The water was so blue because it was very deep. It was a very big cave. Some of the boys went into it and swam. They looked white when they were in the water. It was very beautiful. Someone told me that a man and a woman went in with a boat and they never came back. It has no bottom, I think. We went to the second cave and it was just the same as the first one. We saw lots of names written along the walls. We came back to the truck and went to the dry cave. It was dark so some of the boys brought flashlights. We went on the truck and went to Hanalei to swim. We stopped at one store and some of the children who did not bring lunches bought their lunches and went to Hanalei. There we swam. We had a good time. We had our lunch at 10 o'clock. We were so hungry and our stomachs were so small. When Miss Colbert said lunch time everybody rushed to their lunch bag and ate heartily. Then Miss Colbert gave us some candies for desert.

We helped ourselves. After our lunch we went to the Kilauea light house. On our way we saw a lot of cows. We had a bad road. We reached there and we got off and there was a nice house and we asked a Hawaiian woman to give us a cup of water and she gave us clean water to drink. The man took the keys and went to the light house and he took half of the children and showed us every thing and explained to us. The glass cost $15000. All the things together costs $125,000.

It has 240,000 candle power light and it shines every twenty seconds. It shines twenty-one miles out at sea. It is the third largest in the world. Molokai is next and Golden Gate is the largest of all. It was so beautiful. I never saw anything so beautiful as that in my life. It dazzles our eyes. I wished that I could have staid there a whole day. After we were thru looking we came down and signed our names and went out and we came to the truck and went home. As we were coming home we counted the bridges and there were about 35. The truck stopped at the new camp because there were no gasoline. I forgot to tell you about the power house. It was electricity. I don't know much about that. We had such a good time and I think I had the best time yesterday in my life. I wish that you could have come and enjoyed it with us. The most beautiful thing I ever saw was the light house and the Haena cave. The truck cost $25 and we paid 50 cents each. We had the most good times and no one in our room missed the trip.

The following is a letter written by an 8th grade girl. The girls were asked to write a letter of advice to the boys:

Lihue, Kauai, May 31, 1922.
Dear Classmates:—Everybody must strive to be efficient. To be efficient one must have a healthy body. We must try to get the good things in life and not bad things.

A silly boy's efficiency is to half do the work and not take interest. He will not do right and will often get into trouble. If we half do the work, it is better not to do it. An efficient boy does his work in the best possible way he can and keeps on doing it. An efficient boy uses his brain to think clean things and not ugly things.

All great men and women of the United States were efficient and that made them great men and women. An inefficient boy spends his whole life half doing his work and he can never become a good loyal citizen to his nation. If a nation has people half doing their work, she can never be great. These kind of people disobey the laws of the country and cause great trouble.

If we are efficient we can be of great use to the nation and our community and our future life will be a great success.

Such efficiency I hope yours will always be.

Your friend,
FUJIKO YAMASAKI.

LIHUE THREE-C HIKE TO KIPUKAI

The members of the Three-C Club of Lihue enjoyed the hospitality of the Rice cottage at Kipukai on Monday afternoon and night. An early start immediately following the close of school and a lift as far as Kipukai, landed the hikers in the Kipukai valley early in the afternoon. Peacher Lydgate demonstrated the real qualities of a fisherman by netting an ample mess of mullet for the evening meal. Tobogganing, races and story telling filled the twilight period until the twinkling stars suggested retirement to cots and blankets which had been spread on the ample veranda. To add to the feathery qualities of the canvas some thoughtful hiker had added a few handfuls of beach sand to the inner folds of each blanket. The barking of the sea dogs and the singing of the mermaids were rather distracting to the soundest sleep—but morning came at last and then the breakfast, and then some more fishing and swimming, with an early start brought the party home tired, sunburned and hungry, and ready for other heights to conquer.

HANAMAULU BEACH INVADDED

A casual observer might have thought the old pirate days had returned if he had glanced in the direction of Hanamaulu beach last Tuesday afternoon. Human figures pulling ropes, brandishing clubs, pursuing apparent innocent victims, etc., were seen scurrying around on the sand in an excited and frantic manner.

One interested party on closer observation found the cause of all the activity was due to a round-up of about 50 boys from the Lihue and Hanamaulu public schools and the piratical actions were some of the live games that were being staged. The centipede race climaxed the land activities; water polo and keep-away furnished unending exercise and fun in the cool waters of the bay. An indoor baseball game topped by a luau of roasted wienies and other indigestibles furnished the elements for the ending of a perfect day.

MANA AND KEKAHA 3-C CLUBS FRATERNIZE

There were no barks left in Barkling Sands after forty five years from Kekaha and Mana visited that famous place last Thursday evening. It was enough to scare any respectful sandhill to have a whooping-howling mob come tearing across the plains and take possession. Under Leaders Hamada and Kekauoha the forces were divided regardless of age, stage or residence and competitive games indulged in. Owing to the sprinting ability of Mr. Kekauoha, his side annexed most of the running decisions, but in those which were designed for comfort rather than speed, the cohorts of Mr. Hamada came to the fore. A game of indoor ball had reached that interesting point of the score, bases full, two out, two strikes and two balls on the batter, when the cry "Take away the hot dogs," came from the direction of the camp fire, the results of the game were forgotten in a rush for roasting sticks and the bow-wows. Freddy Webber proved to be the champion roller of the crowd. He rolled the full length of the hill and clear out on the level. Leader Kekauoha, after several hours of secret practice, challenged "the world" to a game of pocket croc. He won. In the uncertain light of the waning sun peculiar and most unusual sounds were heard from the fringe of the trees skirting the sand slope. Some said it was the sand dogs getting ready to bark, others thought the wild goats from the hills had smelted the kaukau and another theory held that there was a mosquito convention or council of war being held. Willie Webber, the smallest man in the crowd was picked to investigate. After many anxious minutes he returned to the fearful waiters and reported that Secretary Watada had corralled a bunch of the campers and they were singing "The mule stood around with his feet on the ground," and other operative selections.

The homeward journey was enlivened.

HANALEI PARENTS AND FRIENDS ENTERTAINED

The Hanalei Y Club entertained their parents and friends last Friday night in the community hall with a series of games, stunts and refreshments.

Parlor baseball and a peanut race had the spectators on their toes during the early part of the evening. Barrel boxing and pillow swat afforded a bunch of laughs for both participants and the audience. Some light gymnastic work in the form of pyramid building demonstrated the possibilities of physical activities without equipment. Music by the famed Hanalei orchestra accompanied by vocal selections received a hearty hand from the listeners. Generous dishes of ice cream and cookies furnished a fitting finale to the evening's enjoyment.

MOLOA YOUNG MEN HOSTS TO 3-C CLUBS

At the invitation of the Koolau young men members from the 3-C clubs of Anahola, Koolau, Kilauea and Hanalei, gathered at Moloa beach last Saturday and enjoyed a day of sports and fellowship. A number of new and peppy games. A number of the day's program. Fishing and swimming was next on the score card, followed by a luau of sweet potatoes, watermelon, wienies and coffee. The afternoon was spent in impromptu track meet, including a hotly contested obstacle race, a ball game, more swimming and eats. It was a unanimous vote to make this gathering an annual occasion.

PREPARATION FOR SUMMER CAMP BEING COMPLETED

With the close of school only a few weeks away the committee on summer camp are making final arrangements and getting everything in hand to assure a long-to-be-remembered outing for the boys of Kauai. The camp announcement states the purpose of the camp is to furnish a helpful, healthful outing for the boys of Kauai county, and that the camp is open to all boys of Kauai. The cost, only $4, is cheaper than a boy can be kept at home. This low fee is made possible by the contributions in tents, food and other supplies made by interested people who know the recreative and moral values of a camp of this nature.

The dates, June 26th to July 8th, were chosen with the object that boys could have twelve days outing immediately following the close of school and the remainder of the summer would be available for work and other activities.

Applications for attendance have already been received, the following men in the various communities acting as registrars:

W. F. Sanborn, Hanalei; Homer Tracy, Kilauea; Henry Kapule, Koolau; Hosea Lovell, Anahola; H. C. Barclay, Kealia; Dr. Chang, Kapaa; Philip Rice and Neil Locke, Lihue; Dr. Waterhouse, Koloa; U. Watada, Puhi; H. H. Brodic, Elelee; Wm. Wright, Waimea; F. D. Hamada, Kekaha; George Kekauoha, Mana.

Camping is an experience, not an institution. An experience which every live, full-blooded, growing boy long for. To sleep out, to roam in the open, the tonic of the hills, to walk under the great sky, to have nature speak to him. Nothing can take its place. The boys of yesterday can still recall some of these glorious occasions, even parts of campfire conversations, stories, etc., are still remembered. Let the boys of today have a chance at this man-making process.
